

Princeton University Press has published Philipp Ther's new book

Europe since 1989: A history (for more information see <http://press.princeton.edu/titles/10812.html>)

The book is an extended English version of his previous book Die neue Ordnung auf dem alten Kontinent: Eine Geschichte des neoliberalen Europa (Berlin: Suhrkamp, 2014).

The publication of the book is accompanied by a series of public lectures and discussions:

10.11.2016, 4:00 PM

Brown University, Watson Institute

<http://events.brown.edu/cal/main/showEventList.rdo;jsessionid=D16CAB44FC189227A4293DC9C2D648A2>

14.11.2016, 4:00 PM

Harvard University, Center for European Studies and History Department

<https://ces.fas.harvard.edu/events/2016/11/1989-in-global-perspective-and-the-rise-of-neoliberalism>

15.11.2016, 4:00 PM

New York University

(details will be amended soon)

16.11.2016, 5:00 PM

University of Pennsylvania, Policy Lab, Perry Word House

<http://web.sas.upenn.edu/p-tesc/events-schedule/europe-since-1989-a-neoliberal-sour/>

19.11.2016, 3:45 PM

48th Annual ASEES Convention, Washington D.C.

Paper presentation at the panel "Labor, Shipbuilding and the (Inter)National Economy: Adriatic and Baltic Case Studies in Comparison"

http://aseees.org/sites/default/files/downloads/Saturday%20oprogram%20as%20of%20June%2023\_1.pdf